Residents, communities, and partners better understand Domestic Abuse and its impact through hearing the lived experiences of survivors. Services are better able to meet need.	The feeling as a group is that this has not been met. Some progress through special projects like the Art Projects during the 16 days of activism where survivors shared their experience. The IDVA's are represented by their management at the DA Board but we are not getting survivor voice at the board	The board to consider how this can be achieved	ASAP	Cranstoun Sharon Payne, Becky Scott & Helena Bayfield

1.4	(Policy) Encourage partner organisations to have a bespoke domestic abuse policy for employees and clients.	All organisations to have a policy that increases knowledge of DA for employees and gives guidelines of how to access support within the workplace.
